

October 18, 2004

Federal Communications Commission
445 12th Street SW
Washington, DC 20554

MB Docket No. 04-233

Dear FCC,

My family enjoys spending hours on the road and at home listening to the radio. As a parent of a 5 year old, 3 year old and 9 month old child, I want to be very selective in what I choose to influence my children's thinking. My family chooses K-Love as our number one choice for FM radio.

The community I live in is rural. Our choice of radio stations is limited. Most of the FM stations are not suitable listening for children. K-Love is always safe for my family, and I appreciate the service provided to me in my community.

If K-Love disappears, families will be forced to listen to music that is crowded with unwholesome banter (just tune in to any "morning show"), and ideas that do not reflect my values. K-Love is one option among many – without it, we have no choices in rural Nebraska.

K-Love contributes to the community as a whole because of its positive message. In addition, it provides diversity. No other station provides the style of music or content that K-Love offers. It is an excellent choice for all listeners, and is needed in this community.

Please do not take away our only access to the style of contemporary Christian music K-Love broadcasts. We need the service it provides to this community. Greater diversity in listening makes good sense.

Sincerely,

Jason Hanselman